

Dear Dion,

A heartfelt thank you to you, Niel, Mario and his team for the hassle free and professional building project we undertook with Westacre over the past 12 months.

From our initial engagements in the Manor House and weekly site meetings, through every challenge during the project, and finally to the site handover and finalisation of all certification – all were handled with absolute professionalism and care, and many times, with a healthy sense of humour which we really enjoyed. When asked by our friends whether we “survived” a building project still being on good terms with the contractor, our answer is always the same. Not only did we survive, we thrived.

We really appreciated the consultative way in which the project was approached, and the excellent communication from Niel during every step of the process. Another key, and surprising element of your service, was the constant advice and assistance with finding the best suppliers for all of the constantly changing requirements of the project. Not only was the workmanship of every element of the project outstanding, but the integrity of the pricing, and subsequent sub-contractor appointment process, was transparent and open.

We would HIGHLY recommend your business to anyone looking for an outstanding and professional building contractor service – you certainly set the bar very high.

Well done and thank you all!

Sincerely,
Guyck and Lucy van Heerden
